

ISO 22000

Ensuring the Safety of the Food Supply Chain

ISO 22000 is one of a family of standards focused on the development, implementation, and improvement of a food safety management system for any organization in the food supply chain. Organizations that can benefit from ISO 22000 registration include farms, fisheries, dairies, processors of food for both human and livestock consumption, food service providers (restaurants, fast food chains, caterers, hospitals, hotels, etc.), and supporting services such as transporters and distributors.

Benefits of ISO 22000 Registration

- ▶ Provides a framework to bring together all parts of your Food Safety Management System (FSMS)
- ▶ Ensures that your organization complies with statutory, regulatory, contractual, and system requirements through internal audits, management reviews, and complaint management
- ▶ Links prerequisite programs and HACCP plans to increase the effectiveness of your food management system
- ▶ Establishes a formal recall program and regular testing, including communication to customers and consumers
- ▶ Reduces risk of financial penalties caused by product recall
- ▶ May reduce insurance costs
